

What our apprentices say:

“The scheme combines on the job, vocational training with a technical, knowledge-based element and offers apprentices the opportunity to progress to qualification without first having obtained a degree.” Nick Read joined Kennedys as a Legal Apprentice in 2012

“I feel the apprenticeship has made me much more independent, not just financially but generally as a person. I am also much more confident in talking to new people.” Alice Jackson, joined Kennedys as a Legal Apprentice in 2014

“I had a great first week in the Sheffield office. I went to court on my second day with one of the solicitors in my team and he also took me to meet a client later in the week. I am really excited for my future at Kennedys!” Bronwen Ollerhead, joined Kennedys as a Legal Apprentice in 2016

Legal Apprenticeship Scheme

Kennedys are offering legal apprenticeships designed to help springboard you into a successful career in the legal world.

If you are an A Level leaver or equivalent, you will have the opportunity to join our firm on our structured two year programme which combines work-based learning through support from Kennedys. You will receive a nationally recognised paralegal qualification, and the opportunity to study further to potentially become a Solicitor.

We currently have Legal Apprenticeship roles available in our Birmingham, Cambridge, Chelmsford, London, Manchester, Sheffield and Taunton offices.

Who are Kennedys?

Kennedys is a top 30 leading law firm and is recognised both nationally and internationally. We are known for our expertise in litigation and dispute resolution, particularly in the insurance/reinsurance and liability industries.

Kennedys has some of the most respected legal minds in their fields. Our teams handle legal services for many industries and services including:

Insurance and reinsurance, healthcare, construction, employment, transport, maritime and international trade.

We have over 1,400 people globally including over 180 partners who are known for being professional and approachable.

Our Core Values

We offer a vibrant and supportive working environment built upon our core values of being approachable, straightforward, supportive and distinctive. Our values are at the core of who we are and what makes us a great firm to work for.

What does the apprenticeship involve?

The two-year paralegal apprenticeship will be your starting point in a successful legal career. Through on the job training, you'll be helping our lawyers with duties and we'll be helping you build your legal knowledge. The paralegal apprenticeship will consist of two main elements:

Learning: We are using BPP University Law School as the learning provider. You will be expected to produce coursework, attend seminars and complete a number of exams throughout the two year course. We are fully supportive of your learning and allocate one day's study leave per week. All tuition fees are fully funded by Kennedys.

Working: You will join a legal team, where you will be immersed in the work carried out by our lawyers. You can expect to assist lawyers with their cases, draft documentation, and carry out legal research, alongside having exposure to our clients.

Who are we looking for?

We are looking for bright, ambitious A level school leavers who have decided to pursue a vocational route into law, rather than going to university.

As well as demonstrating a passion for working in a legal environment and sharing our values, successful candidates will need to show the drive and determination to succeed in what can be a demanding sector.

Candidates will have at least eight GCSEs at A* to B grade and will be expecting to gain at least three A levels at A* to B grade.

Benefits

- ✓ £18,500 starting salary in our London office
- ✓ £15,750 starting salary in our regional offices
- ✓ All training costs covered
- ✓ One day's study leave each week
- ✓ An interest free season ticket loan, subsidised gym memberships, private medical care and more!
